The role

We are looking to hire a Threat Researcher who will report into the Director of Threat Intelligence and play a part in the organization's threat intelligence capabilities.

The ideal candidate for this role will have a background in threat intelligence and will have strong written and research skills, with the ability to communicate and document findings and in clear and concise manner.

The role will include the following responsibilities:

- Identify and produce tactical level intelligence reports on behalf of customers across multiple industry verticals
- Support Rapid Risk Response engagements with timely review of internal datasets
- Analyze content from unindexed areas of the internet
- Quickly understand and deliver on company and customer requirements
- Produce concise, written analysis and visual presentation of findings
- Keep up to date on new techniques used by Magecart communities
- Reverse engineer web attacks used by Magecart groups
- Explain and work on finished technical intelligence reports
- Work with engineering teams to drive product development and security.

Key Requirements

- Extensive experience as a high performing practitioner in a cyber threat intelligence role
- Contribute to regional intelligence programs, with an understanding of online threat activity, and understanding of non-English language underground communities
- Review raw data requiring an advanced capability to perform translation, transcription, and interpretation
- Translate a wide variety of collected data sets from illicit communities
- Work within a larger analyst team to provide support and review of finished intelligence products

Location

There are no location requirements or stipulations for this role and the right person will be considered regardless of where they live. While travel is not part of the role, candidates must be able to occasionally travel for things such as company events.

Compensation

There is no defined compensation range for the role other than to say that we will be exceptionally competitive for the ideal candidate.

Education Requirements

There are no specific education requirements for the role – we are looking for the right person with the right abilities and the right mindset.

If you are highly motivated, we would love to hear from you. Please submit resume to careers@ensighten.com.
