

Account Executive

Us

Ensignten was founded in 2009, with an amazing roster of global clients, such as Delta, Microsoft, McDonald's, United Airlines, Capital One, Nationwide and many more. We're growing significantly and looking for passionate individuals to join our growing team. So, what do we do? We enable F1000 brands to ensure their websites are secure, preventing leakage of customer data, applying strong data governance principles whilst also adhering to global compliance regulation.

If you prefer industry jargon, we're the global leader in client-side detection and prevention of unauthorized leakage and data theft through your website supply chain.
